First Sunday after Pentecost. All Saints Sunday

Today we celebrate every person who has ever followed God, both in the Old Testament, in the New Testament, and even people who live holy lives today! Some saints taught, others prayed lots, others helped people, some witnessed to their faith and still others were administrators of the Church. Even a fool (perhaps especially a fool) can become holy. Did you know that EVERYONE is called to be a saint? Including YOU!

You can read today's Gospel with your family. It is found here: Matthew 10:32-33, 37-38; 19:27-30.

There are all kinds of Saints.

During the Divine Liturgy we always remember 1> All types of Angels, 2> the Prophets, 3> the Apostles, 4> the Hierarchs, 5> the Martyrs, 6> the Monastics, 7> the Healers and Charitable ones, 8> the Ancestors of God and 9> Everyone else including the saint of the day.

YOU are called to be a saint too. Draw a picture of yourself with a "Halo". A halo is the circle of light made by the Holy Spirit Who is within each Saint.
