4th Sunday of Lent - Sunday of St. John Climacus

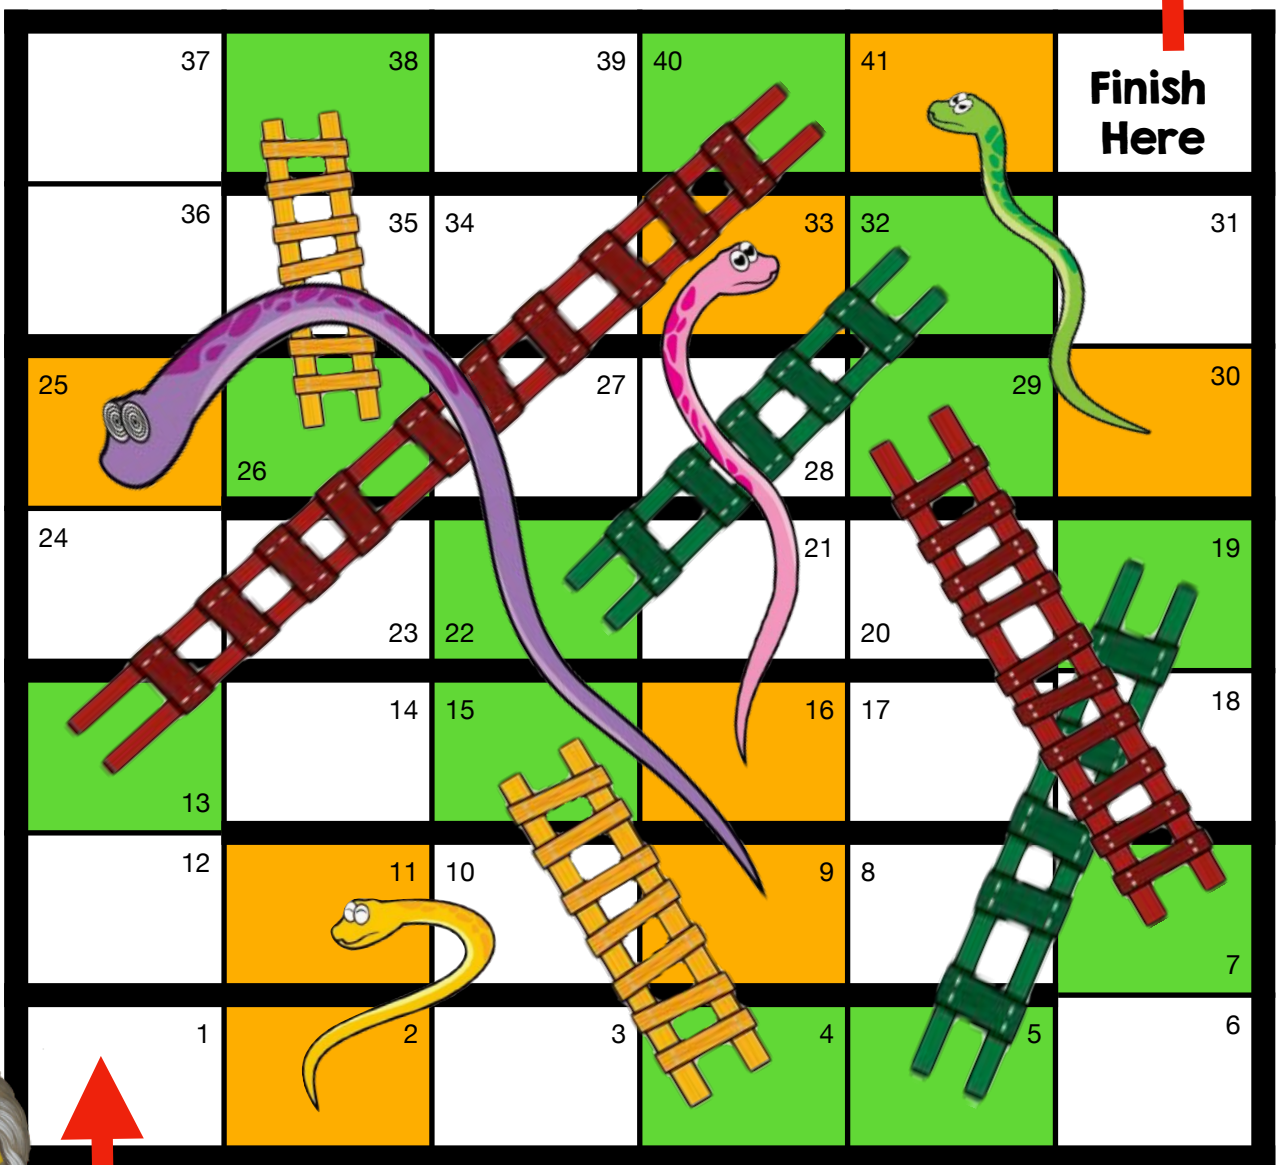

Saint John was a good and holy teacher. He taught his followers to climb up to God like a person climbs up a ladder: one step at a time. He tells us all to pay attention to the good things, and to ignore the evil things. If we keep our eyes on Jesus, then we will get to heaven.

Getting to heaven means a lot of climbing in holy ways. Can you climb the angelic ladders, but avoid the the devilish snakes who make us fall?

Use dice and player pieces from a different game to play this one.

If you don't know how to play this game ask your parents or grandparents to help.
